OUR TIME IS NOW
CLASS OF 2012

THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY

OUR TIME IS NOW

Our time is now. We finally made it to our senior year and we're ready to take on the world ahead of us. These past four years have been incredible and prepared us for new obstacles, and have allowed us to make countless memories that we'll carry with us for the rest of our lives. We all believed that high school would last forever...but here we are suddenly looking back: freshman year we made new friends, sophomore year we adapted to a new school, and junior year we united to beat the seniors during spirit week. Now here we all are in our senior year, getting ready to go off to college on our own. We may all go our separate ways, but we will always cherish the memories we have made as the Class of 2012.

Through these four years, you have made such a big impact on the Class of 2012. Not only have you been a great dean, but you've also been someone to look up to and a great friend. We could never thank you enough for everything you've done for us. Helping with our prom, or encouraging everyone in our class to be the best person they can be; we know that you'll always be there for us. You've contributed so much to the success of our class and made us unite as one. Really though, which other dean could have led their juniors to beat the seniors in spirit week? We love you Mr. J!

Faculty

Congratulations Class of 2012. I am sure that you all have fading memories of the old Quincy High School. It pleases me that you had an opportunity to spend some time in the new building. The word "new" can be associated with you class. You entered a new building. You helped create a new mission and the learning expectations that are associated with it. How can you forget the "Think, Work, Share" campaign? As a class, you continued Quincy High School's tradition of excellence as you assisted in establishing the new policies that are now associated with the school. You helped reiterate that excellence is not a skill but rather an attitude. Please take what you have learned and choose something that you are interested in. Pursue it, set goals to achieve it and commit yourself to your attribute of excellence. Cherish the memories you had and remember the special people who came into your lives here at Quincy High School. I am sure that they left footprints in your heart. Always remember, that you are welcomed back as alumni and that it is the return that makes you appreciate the goodbye.

- Principal Frank Santoro

Mrs. Law

Guidance Counselor Chik Ching Law was a remarkable woman. She took her role as guidance counselor to another level for the students she represented. Many times she was the first person to introduce foreign students to a new country and new school. Ms. Law continued to advocate for her students in many ways. She made sure that their education and the services they should receive were individualized and appropriate. Ms. Law devoted her life to serving others.

Simone De Beauvoir, French Philosopher and Intellect, once said, "one's life has value so long as one attributes value to the life of others, by means of love, friendship and compassion". Ms. Law's service to the students at Quincy High School certainly, is one of value. For this we will forever be indebted to her and will miss her love, friendship and compassion.

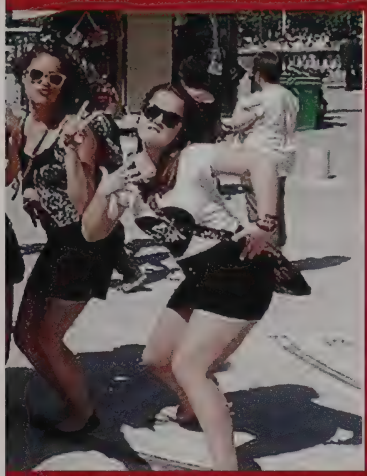
- Du hello! - LF
- Get money! - AC
- We loved when the ceiling fell on us! ^_^ - ED
- Class of 2012: the last class to walk through rain and snow to get to English class. - JB

Here we are looking back at all the unforgettable times we've had at Quincy High. It's amazing how we've managed to stick together as a class through all the good and bad times life has thrown at us over these crazy four years. We may never remember every second we spent here, but we'll always carry a piece of each other and Quincy High School in our hearts forever.

Madame Alma

Madame Alma is a french teacher here at QHS and had a couple of students on the trip in her french classes. She has been to Paris before, but London was new for her and she says that she had a blast!



The Daily Habits Of Travel

- The girls admitted to acting pretty crazy in their free time on the trip.
- The girls estimated that they each took roughly about 125 pictures per day.
- The group went to Paris, France and London, England.
- The group experienced different cultural differences from USA to Europe.

> "We travel, some of us forever, to seek other states, other lives, other souls."
> - Anais Nin

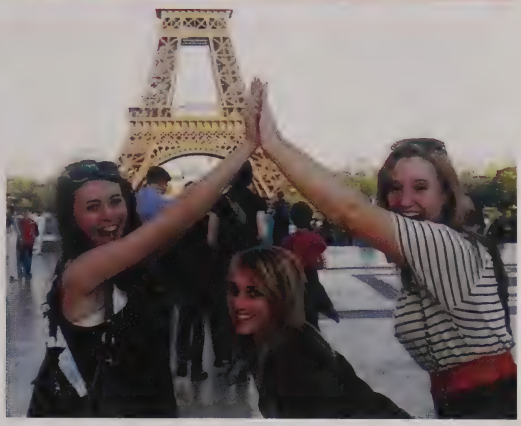
7. Mahk! You tell me!



, One of the greatest opera houses ever in the world.

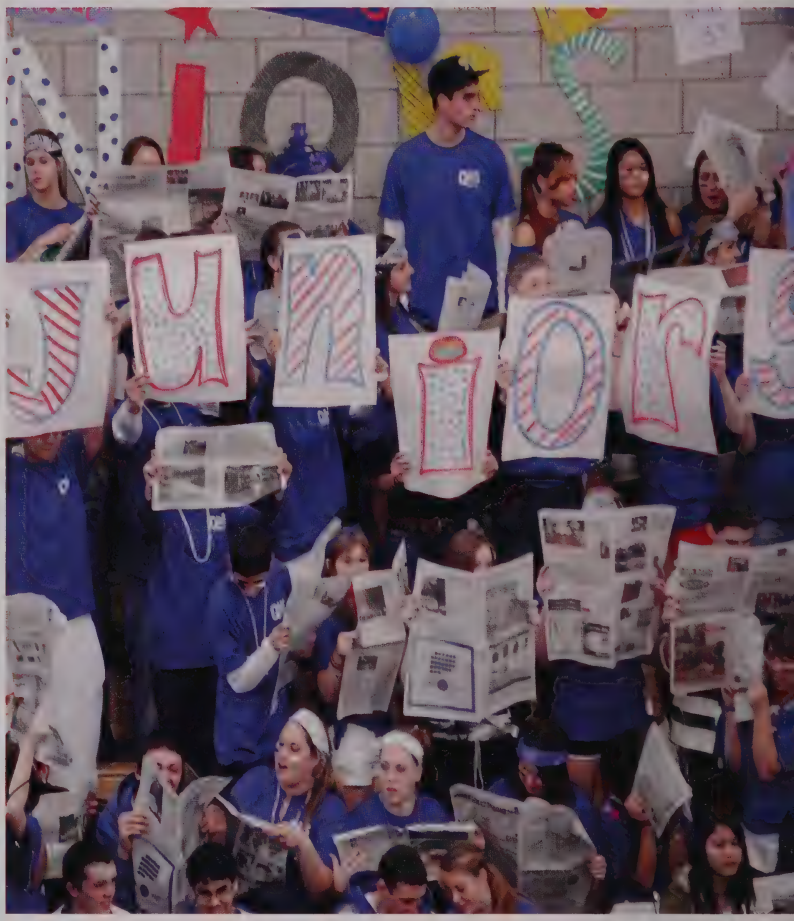
he girls on the trip will always remember the memories from Europe: Mahk, balcony hopping, losing Belle and Trish on the "tube," KWC's; it's four o'clock, the amazing waitors, butterfinger Peter, Freddy, and his french buns, Kelsey "Lady Gaga" Pudder, Don't stop believing!, Belle getting searched and put in PC in Iceland, Dee somehow missing the cone, seeing Jennifer Hudson, and of course Kelsey getting attacked by the street performers! Although, it was a bit of a culture shock at first, it was a great experience and they will never forget it!

JUNIORS

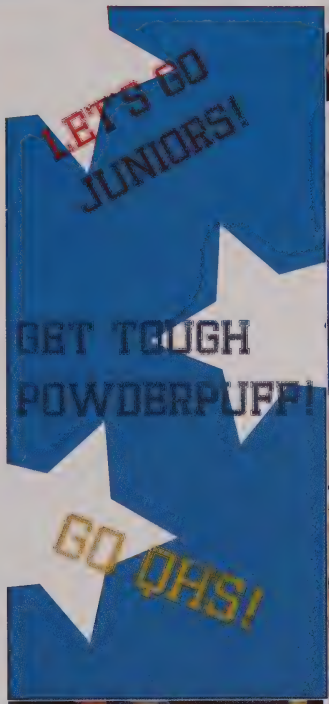
Juniors definitley dominated during spirit week. Not only did we win the powderpuff flag football game at the rally, but we also had the most people dress up for all of the different theme-days: Twin Day, Safari Day, Wild Wild West Day, Mismatch Day, New England Sports Day, Cancer Awareness Day, and Color Wars. With all our hard work, its clear that we deserved to be the first junior class in QHS history to beat the seniors. However, history will not repeat itself; the Class of 2013 has no chance of beating us this year!

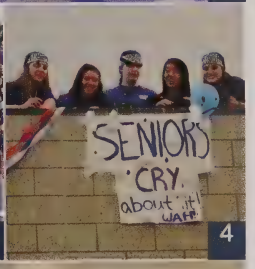
"Quotes"

- "QHS Spirit Week is so much better than North's. The juniors looked like an army with all our camo!" – Bridget
- "We, we, we so excited!" - Liam Fitzpatrick
- "Nerd Day was da bomb!" -Benjamin Witunsky
- Party like it's 2012!



"Juniors played tug-of-war against the seniors. We won!"





1. Chrissy, Kayla, and D'onna cheering.
2. Jess Hurd in her froggy hat.
3. Kayla Mills playing flag football.

MEMORIES TO LAST A LIFETIME

- Will you teach us how to dougie?
- Rebecca Black's hit "Friday" was a break through song.
- Students will never forget witnessing the infamous Sully breakin' it down in the center of a circle.
- The music was blearing and nobody could resist the temptation to dance, break it down seniors!

GETTIN' DOWN ON FRIDAY

Finally the time had come! Despite the dreary weather, after weeks of preperation, we kept it classy attending our very first prom at the Tirrell Room. With the girls flaunting beautiful dresses and the handsome young men flashing off their freshie suits, everyone looked stunning. Together we shared moments as we all danced the night away and partied hard. How could we ever forget watching our very own Sully "dougie-ing" or everyone joining in a flashmob singing "Friday" by Rebecca Black. Prom was an experience of a lifetime that many of us will cherish forever.

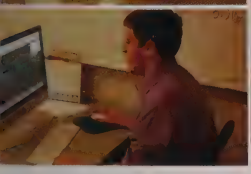
ART

This year's senior class is quite a mix of students. Many I have had for four years, and some I am just meeting. Several of my seniors are here just for the fun of making art, while others are here to prepare for further study on the college level. Whatever the reason, I try to make sure that each and every single senior leaves Quincy High School having made some artwork that they can be proud of. This year has been a blast- full of surprises, intrigue, and most importantly fun!

Seniors Say:

- Makena Schiffmann- "It's fun and I love it!"
- Jessica Meunier- "I can express myself through art"
- Clarissa Albert- "That's us!"
- Olivia Goldson- "It's so fun it helps me relax."



GRAPHIC DESIGN

In GVC, students explore the exciting world of electronic media. Students use images, type, color and layout to create ads, web sites, logos, posters, brochures and even the school's yearbook on our MACS. Students get to work on real-world projects for the school and local community. Video, photography and animation are other avenues for students to explore their imagination. Students leave GVC with an electronic web site portfolio which boasts the abundance of their creative and technological nature.

Seniors Say:

- Olivia Goldson-"love it!"
- Theresa Hughes- "I like to visually show art"
- Ben Wilunsky- "I love Graphics, it allows me to apply my artistic abilities to my dream of being a game designer!"

GOLF

QHS Golf Team on Par

The 2011 QHS Golf Team was short on wins but having 4 Sophomores and 2 or 3 Freshman in the varsity line-up each and every match will pay off down the road according to Coach Lou Venturelli. "Justin is our only Senior who has plenty of varsity experience and talent to go with it but this season was about building for what appears to be a very bright future". Sophomore Mike Pugsley won several heads-up matches at #2 and the trio of Sophomores Matt McLellan, Jack Fischer and Matt Joyce form a solid nucleus according to the coach. "I was extremely pleased with the turn-out from the Freshman class", added the coach as Freshman Brandon Beal held the #3 spot most of the year along with the additions of Brian O'Callaghan, Aidan Pugsley, Stephen Delorio, Steve Ross and Matt Hodges. The lone Junior was Bobby Kelley, whose presence in the line-up was always a plus.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

And They Spike Again...

Regardless of losing senior contributors this year, the QHS volleyball team was still continually expected to have a winning season, like many of the previous years. With many returning players, the girls volleyball team was experienced and had high hopes. They went into this season full force, intending to defend the titles they earned in the past. Throughout their career, the seniors on this volleyball team have: maintained an almost perfect record continuously for four years, won the patriot league title twice in a row, and received the academic achievement award every year. This is a remarkable team with a group of underclassmen contributing to their success this year. As you can tell, the QHS girls volleyball team is a force to be reckoned with!

GIRLS SOCCER

"Never Quit"

The girls varsity soccer team certainly proved themselves this year. They had their first ever tie against their rival team the North Quincy Red Raiders with a score of one to one, beating them the entire first half. The team had a successful season in comparison to previous years, ending the season with three wins, 11 losses, and five ties. Head coach Don Martin enlisted the help of John Lucier and Mike Kennedy, who specialized in helping the goalies. Captains Brielyn O'Leary, Michaela Walker, and Victoria Wallace lead the team well. All of the players were good friends, and always had a great time both on and off the field.

BOYS SOCCER

"Tourney Bound"

This year's boys soccer team stunned everyone with a tourney bound record. For the first time in ten years, they qualified for the state tournament. Although they lost a heartbreaking game in round one, they will always remember this season as ground breaking and beyond exceptional. With nine seniors graduating, the QHS Boys Soccer Team will miss them greatly!

Senior Captain Dan Mongo said about the North game: "It was a tight game, but we were clearly the better team after the first half. Second half we came out on fire and scored two quick goals. From that point on we never looked back and dominated possession."

The rivalry between Quincy and North Quincy goes way back, and extends to all of our sports teams. The highlight of the rivalry is usually the girls Powderpuff football game, but this year we changed that tradition. The greatest thing about this rivalry is that everyone from both schools remain friends, with just a little friendly competition when it comes to school spirit and sports. They may not know this or agree with it, but clearly, Quincy is better all-around.

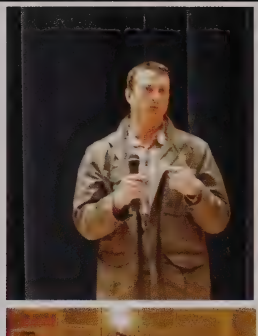
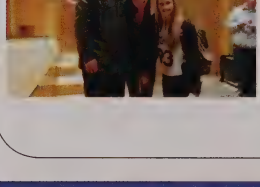
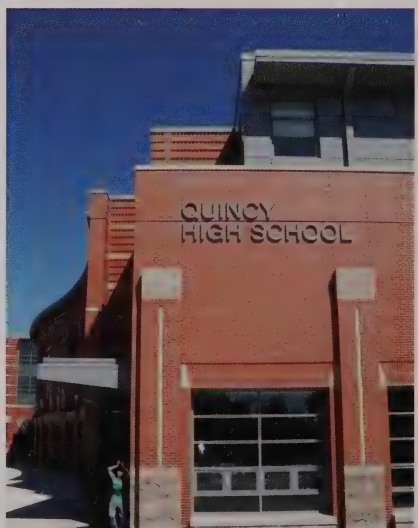
Unguardable Comes To QHS



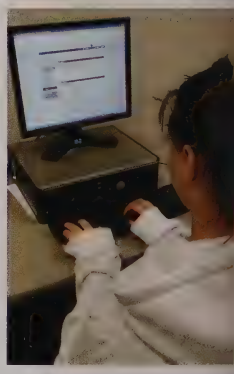


The Students Against Destructive Decision organization at our school was able to bring basketba star Chris Herron to speak to the entire school abou his personal struggles with drug abuse and addiction Herron, a former Celtic was easily the best basketba player to ever come out of Massachusetts. H grew up in Fall River Massachusetts, and playe at Durfee High School where he scored over 2,00 points on his own in his entire high school caree Not only did he play in college, but he played i many professional teams across the entire world He was very successful and well known until he fe victim to a drug addiction that destroyed his caree

Now as a recovering addict, Herron has starte multiple organizations to help promote drug aware ness. He visits schools across the country and ha written memoirs about his life and experiences an even has an extremely well known documentary ou on ESPN titled "Unguardable" It was a very big dea to have such an influential and world famous speake visit our school. It has had a huge impact on all of u and we are all grateful to have had this experience



Social Media



The internet is extremely important to all students at QHS. The most popular social media websites are Facebook, Twitter, and Tumblr. Almost every kid in the grade has a Facebook account.

1. We will never forget the day the Bruins won the Stanley cup on June 15th, 2011. The Celtics won the Championship in the June 17th, 2008. Red Sox went under new management December 1st, 2011.

2. After years of searching for MA Mob boss, Whitey Bulger, the most wanted man in the country, he was finally found in California on June 22nd, 2011. He has been a wanted fugitive for over 20 years.

3. Phillip Markoff, otherwise known as the infamous "craigslist killer," was arrested in 2010. Mr. Markoff was from Quincy, MA.

4. In our junior year we were finally moved in to our beautiful new Quincy High School. This brand new state of the art school costs over 126 million dollars to build.

Flocking Hits Quincy

The year of 2012 brought about plenty of commotion in the media due to flocking. Flocking is a fundraiser that QHS seniors have done for many years in order to raise money for their senior night out, which is a special event for seniors in order to prevent drinking and driving after senior prom. In order to participate in this fundraiser, you have to pay $20 to have someone deliver the flock of flamingos to the desired person's lawn, unseen and at night. The person who receives the flock may pay $20 to pass it on to someone else, or they can choose not to participate and the flock will be removed within 24 hours. This year, the fundraiser caught the attention of many widespread media and news networks due to a complaint that was placed into the police by a woman that was unwillingly flocked. Because this woman reached out to the local news, it caught the attention and raised debate over the issue in news networks all over the country. The publicity that came with this complaint brought nothing but good things to our school and we were actually able to raise over $6,300.00, which is a major increase compared to the years before. Our flocking story became famous when it was reported to The Patriot Ledger, Channel 7 News, Channel 4 News, New England Cable News, NECN,The Boston Globe, Quincy Sun, the Bob Rivers Show (a radio station in Seattle), Boston Greater Media Radio Station,and the infamous Barstool Sports.com. The senior class has been very appreciative of all the publicity we recieved, and we would like to thank all of the members of the QHS PAC organization, especially Mrs. Ursula Schulte, for all their hard work in making this fundraiser possible.

Thomas Doucette

"The class of 2012 holds a special place in my heart. They were all Freshmen when I started working with the QHS Drama Club. They were passionate technicians and performers who grew up to excel at their craft. QHS was blessed to have such a talented mix of stage managers, scenic painters, scenic carpenters, designers, technical directors, and performers. THEY ARE MY "A-TEAM" and I applaud them."

All of your sailing and your salient sailors all of your jacktar boys and mariners so free all of their faces with their bucky cheeks so rosy widows of the water WHERE CAN THEY BE?

Ten November

Ten November tells the true story of nine sailors who lost their lives on Lake Superior as a part of a real life 29 member crew. One November 10, 1975, the S.S. Edmund Fitzgerald sank into Lake Superior, no bodies were ever recovered. The play is told through song, dance, poem, dialouge, and metaphor. It is a chilling tale of sailors last minutes and the investigation that follows. The ship encountered three 35 foot waves, known among sailors as the Three Sisters. These waves were embodied by three dancers on stage. Metaphors are used heavily throughout Ten November. For instance, a giant suspended wave, and the three widows played by singers represent the lake and waves. The play is emotional and full of raw imagery as shown in the following monologue:

Senior Dan Hennessey recites his lines during the play.

"You should remember that if you'da stood her up, the Fitz would've been the tallest building in the mid-west. The 530 feet of water she sank in was not nearly as deep as she was long. And i don't mean to say she sank. Everybody's got a theory. The men who work the lakes think she took on water down below from a gash in her hull. The gash, they say, came from shoaling off of Caribou Island. The Coast Guard, some of whom are so damn educated they're stupid, claims she took on water from above through hatch covers that were damaged or not closed tight. Hell, there's even nutheads think she met up with aliens who sank the ship and made off with her crew. The lake must get a kick out of these stories. It's simple really. At 7:15 on 10 November the Fitzgerald got hit by the Three Sisters."

This year our homecoming was organized by junior Maggie Mahoney (the girl on the right in the picture above). As the chair of the homecoming committee Maggie was in charge of making tickets, hiring the DJ, decorating the gym, finding chaperones, and making sure everyone had a good time. Thanks Maggie for making our last homecoming a great one!

"It was a fun night. The homecoming committee showed their organization and hard work. I am honored that the panel of judges voted for me to be homecoming king."

KING & QUEEN

Quincy High held the homecoming dance in our very own state-of-the-art gym on the evening of November 18, 2011. Since it was the first dance of the year, everyone anticipated an eventful and unforgettable night. Everyone couldn't wait for the dancing and fun to start. This year, the seniors were more excited than usual on homecoming night. After the stress of college started to subside, they were all ready to let loose on the dance floor! Homecoming committee did an excellent job preparing for the night. Half way through the evening, everyone stopped and anticipated who would be crowned Homecoming King and Queen. The Homecoming nominees for Queen were: D'onna Roche, Kayla Mills, Emily Nguyen, and Isabelle Schulte. The Homecoming nominees for King were: Jack Kozlowski, John Bottary, Nick Lepore. Dennis Nguyen, and Chi Zheng. After what seemed like forever, Mr. Santoro honored Isabelle Schulte and Jack Kozlowski with the crown. Everyone gathered around as they shared their first royal dance as King and Queen. As the night came to an end, the seniors wished they had more time together and the underclassmen couldn't wait for the next homecoming!

Spirit Week

This year's spirit week was one of the best Quincy High has had so far. A special thanks to Donna Roche, Jack Kozlowski, and Kayla Mills for planning it. There was a lot of student involvement, especially from the senior class. Throughout the week, there was a toiletry drive to support our soldiers and a canned food drive for the cause as well. If students brought in items for either cause, they recieved points towards their grades' spirit week total. One exciting event was the Powderpuff Preliminary round on the 21st, which resulted in the seniors and sophomores facing each other at the rally. Another exciting event of spirit week was hallway decorating, which took place on Tuesday the 22nd after school. The seniors decorated the lobby and displayed their QHS blue and white pride and their shades of pink, especially showing off flocking. The senior's last spirit week turned out to be a huge success and everyone had a lot of fun.

The seniors took a lot of time to bond in preparation for the rally this year. During double period one on the day of the rally we all went to the gym to take pictures and get pumped for the rally. We came up with fun poses like the human pyramid above. Also, we all sat in a circle in the rotunda which the juniors decorated, where we held hands and sang songs. All the time we took to bond really helped us come together to defeat the underclassmen.

RALLY

The annual Thanksgiving Day Rally was held on November 23rd, 2011 in the brand new gym. It was only the second rally to be held in our state of the art gym so there was tons of room for all the students, faculty, and other guests that wanted to join in on the fun. The night before the rally was filled with excitement as the seniors joined forces to decorate the front lobby. By the end of the night the lobby was filled with blue and white along with signs saying "you wish you could be one two" and "we will flock you." The rally began with the band and chorus followed by the introduction of all our fall sports teams . We had some great entertainment between the break dancers and cheerleaders. During all the underclassmen chants the seniors had clever moves like a "Bernie" flash mob and a "freeze" mob to show we are the best. After we beat the juniors in the tug of war it was time to take on the sophomores in the powder puff game. Our experienced team led us to victory for the second year in a row! We were the only class in QHS history to win the rally twice. Our talent and ability to work together made us the most successful class ever. Even though the classes got very competitive, we all joined forces in the end against North for the big game.

QUOTES FROM PLAYERS

- Reggie: "It was a great experience. I'm really going to miss playing with these guys. The fans were crazy, we appreciate it."
- Nick Lepore: " Quincy is a family, North is a group of individuals
- Nick: "I always dreamed about playing on Thanksgiving. It was fun, but it didn't end the way we planned. It was definitely a game I'll always remember."
- Jalen: "I'm really going to miss playing with these seniors, we became a family. The vibe was crazy and we owe it to our fans."

Quincy High fans definitley showed more spirit than their rivals. It was a sea of blue and white, and even defeat couldn't dampen the support for the QHS players.

GOBBLE!

GOBBLE!

By the time Thanksgiving comes around, records and previous troubles become irrelevant. This one game can define a whole season beacuse of the emphasis put on this memorable rivalry. Both North Quincy High and Quincy High are willing to put everything on the line for this one game. For ten consecutive years, Quincy High was led to victory. Unfortunately for the past two years, we were unable to keep that streak going. As you can imagine, everyone in the stadium was anticipating a belligerent game. Quincy came out of the gates and took the lead in the first quarter. They were relying on that momentum to keep them going. However, North Quincy fought back and carried the game. From then on, Quincy High boys desperately tried to catch up, but the outcome was not what everyone hoped for. We may have lost, but it was an unforgettable game.

CHEERLEADING

"Get On Our Level"

This year's football cheerleading team was like a big family. All the girls were very close and had great times on and off the field.They were lead by new coaches: Caylie Gibson, Taila-Jade Whitford, and Paul Boyd. The girls were very dedicated to cheering on the football team and even weathered the cold, rain, and wind to keep the boys' spirits up. Even though there were only four home games the girls worked really hard and gave it their all during every performance. They practiced for three hours every day but all their hard work and dedication was worth it in the end.

We Are Determined

The Quincy High School football team resembles a family. Even though they seem to have disagreements or arguing at the end of the day, they are, all happy with the teammates they have. They spend everyday after school together, Saturday mornings together, and they also take team trips to Grumpy White's. They have a special bond that they will take with them forever, even when they are not playing on the same team anymore. Quincy High football isn't just a team or an organization; it's a life long brotherhood.

Throughout the past four years, the Class of 2012 student council has worked to plan events and fundraisers to help make the class as great as it can be. Freshmen year we ran a water sale, to begin our high school career with some money. Sophomore year the class officers planned the semi-formal dance, collected class dues, and involved the class in community service events. Junior year, the class of 2012 stepped it up. The class officers got the class involved in spirit week, hallway decorating, and powderpuff, which resulted in our spirit point victory over the seniors. We also provided the class with "Juniors Rule" t-shirts. The class officers also planned Junior Prom, which took place at the Tirrell Room. Senior year the class officers planned a "Just Dance 3" tournament for the school and a tournament for middle-schoolers as a fundraiser. We won spirit week again. We planned a Karaoke show, and got the class involved in community service. We planned Mr. and Mrs. QHS and a senior week during the week of sign-outs. The class officers also planned the Senior Prom.

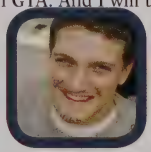
So I'm basically new here and a lot of my graduating class doesn't know me. Well then again in this large group can we really know everyone? I came here from a small town in New Hampshire called Hinsdale. It was awful and I don't recommend going there. My hometown is Charlestown, though. I'm really lucky and thankful that I get to have my senior year in this school. I came from a very small, underfunded school in a very boring and underfunded town. It really upsets me when people talk bad about this town and school. It's great here. There is so much to do, believe it or not. There is also easy access to transportation that I never got in New Hampshire. And this school offers more than I was ever able to have. So just so you know me and not just my background! I love Xbox and Playstation. CoD 4 is the best. Gears of War is amazing. I love Saints Row better than GTA. And I will take the hate for that :P. love Pokemon, Hello Kitty, Pandas and Cupcakes. Hair dying is fun and I will do almost anyone's hair if I know you, you buy the stuff and give me $5 xD .Well!! Here's a random quote! "All of as, at certain moments of our lives, need to take advice and to receive help from other people." Alexis Carrol



Abrar Ahmed

My years spent at Quincy High School have been filled with fun memories and good times. I'd like to thank a couple of teachers who have made my transition here easier. Thank you Mrs. Martin for all your support and fun times in class; it was the one class I was able to relax and breathe in. You will forever be remembered in my heart ;) I'd also like to thank Dr. T for all her help. Dr. T, the amount of time and dedication you spend towards your students is exceptional. There are very few teachers who are willing to stay after school until 6 or 8 just to help a couple of students, and you are among them. Your efforts will not be forgotten, especially in our 5 student AP Chem class of 2011, haha. I'd also like to thank Mrs. Spellman for her wise words and provision during times of trial. I really enjoyed and considered all the advice you've given me. Thank you for your support. I'd also like to thank Mr. Long, for always having the patience to stay with me after school until I understood the material and answering my continuous questions. Your time and understanding were very much appreciated. I'd also like to thank Mr. Columb for his help, understanding, and ability to be broad minded. Your kindness will forever be remembered. Also, my guidance counselors, especially Mrs. Dubois and Mrs. Eldridge; thank you for all the time you took to helping me settle down with high school, career choices, and college. You helped me pave the road to my goals. Last but not least, I'd also like to thank all my best friends, Sarah, Niama, Zara, and Joharrah, for their support in and outside of school. Our memories together, be it playing the wii at 10:00 at night, when we still haven't touched our homework due the next day, or our Friday and Saturday nights out, were ones that will forever stay in my heart forever. I am also forever indebted to my family for their dedicated love and unfailing support. Without them, I would not be where I am today. Thank you.

Jason Barbosa

My name is Jason Barbosa but my friends call me 'Jas'. I would like to thank all my teachers for being so helpful through my four years in high school. They have been the best teachers I have ever had. They have made my days in high school interesting, fun, and knowledgable. I would also like to thank my coaches in both soccer and tennis. They may be strict but they were great couches. I have learned alot from them during my sophmore, and jounior ar of soccer and sophmore- senior years of tennis. I would like thank my english teacher Mrs. Pantano, she has helped me alot getting though my high school year. I can't forget to thank Mrs. zy for helping me choose clases and help me pick a selective. ould also like to thank my spanish teacher Mrs. Mahoney for lping me learn spanish so well. last but not least a thank you to s.Colleman for helping me we the work resume and thank you fers for jobs. It saddens me that is can't thank all my teach- in this limited bio.I would also like to thank my Protective rvice teacher Mr. Welch for helping me raise my chances of ng in a law enforcement job. If it wasn't his class i would never ve learned so many things about the law and about the differ- t careers in law enforcement. I even get to do all the things I uldn't have done if I didn't take that class, like ride along and et people doing law enforcement jobs. I have loved my years in incy High School it has been fulled of memories both good and d but all in all I loved being in the school. One of my favorite mories of high school is going to the Danham prison for a tour. ot to learn alot and have fun with the class. I also loved going the museum of fine arts with my english class. I got to see some autiful art work and have some with my friends. My favorite mory is the prep rally in 2010 when I watched the juniors win ainst the seniors in a wide arrange of challenges. I also liked tching the teachers win against the school's volleyball team in 10. It was a interesting game that was very intense. One memory lso remember from my high school year is when I joined the hool's Cultural fair and did Cape Verde. I had fun learning about e different cultures of the students that go to my school includ- g my country's culture. It really was a great learning experience eally teaches you alot in one day.

"You're gonna miss this, you're gonna want this back. You're gonna wish these days hadn't gone by so fast." Wow, I can't believe we're actually graduating this year! It seems like just yesterday that we were walking through the front doors of the old school and crossing the bridge to get to homeroom. I've had some of the best memories of my life when I was at QHS and I'll never forget them. I'll also never forget the friendships I've made. Lamie, Nugget, Nick, Jack, Juli, DJ, Connor, and others I forgot to mention, you guys have been with me since day one. Thanks for all the memories we've had through the years. Blair and Kiley you guys are always there for me and I love you guys, I'm so glad we all became close sophomore year because I really don't know what I'd do without you two! Shannon I'm seriously going to miss driving you every day. You've been my best friend since second grade, I love you and I'll miss you so much. No matter where we go to school I'm going to come visit all the time because I need your humor in my life. And of course, Caity and Nicole. We've been best friends since first grade (11 years together). I can't believe that next year we won't be spending our first day of school together. We've gone through so much and fight like we're sisters but we'll always be there for each other through everything. I love you guys so much and I have no idea what I'm going to do next year without seeing you guys everyday at school or volleyball and softball. Thank you Mrs. Martin, you've been more than just a teacher to me since freshman year. "Press the green button!"And fellow accountants, (CL. KM. EN. DN. KK.). I seriously feel like we're a family and I don't know what I'll do when we don't all have period 11 together anymore. I can't believe soon enough we'll all be going our separate ways. Most of us will never see each other again after we graduate, but we all represent something together, as the class of 2012. That is a memory that none of us will ever forget. Congrats senio12s! We did it.

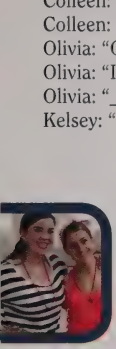
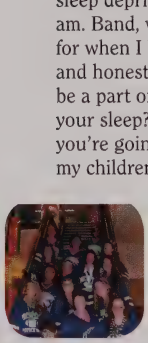
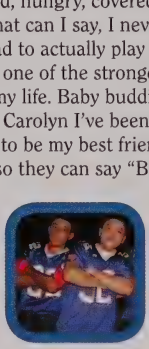
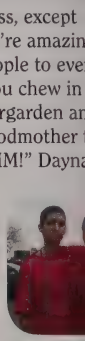
If you know me then you know I'm loud and talk a lot and that this paragraph will barely cover everything that I have going through my mind about High school. I'm honestly going to mis the time I spent here with all of you. I helped to put on 10 sho I learned great skills, I played in 4 concerts,and teched for 4. Though I was never really in the public eye I took part in a lot at this school. I made great friends here and I was re-united wi some old ones. Drama club I could come to you with anything, sleep deprived, hungry, covered in paint you understand who I am. Band, what can I say, I never felt new in that class, except for when I had to actually play haha. Jess Hurd, you're amazin and honestly one of the strongest most awesome people to eve be a part of my life. Baby buddies! "Did you know you chew in your sleep?". Carolyn I've been with you since kindergarden an you're going to be my best friend till I die no joke, godmother my children so they can say "But MMMAAAHHHMMM!" Dayna









Angela Deluca

All you need is love. High school has not just been education but an experience. With my friends I have found myself as well as help them through their lives. I know as I go on to bigger and better things I will always have fond and not so fond memories of my days in high school

Elizabeth Do (Liz Do)

Finally... IT'S OVER! Four years completely flew by. As much as I hate Quincy, it's sad knowing that it's our time to grow up and go our separate ways. My high school years wouldn't have been the same without my A-Z-N crew– Sandy, Emily, Alex, and S. Bags! Also, I wouldn't have survived through any of my classes without the help of Juli, my Gh3tT0 f@b c0ckazn seester, and Eagles! haha. Wow, I can't wait to leave. With that being said... GO0DBYE, QUINCY HIGH! ~~~DUECES~~~ same deal you're awesome and I dont want you to ever grow o the socially awkward stage you've been stuck in since third gra I'm never going to forget your Chemistry malfunctions. Clariss I'm so glad you came to Quincy, we're going to travel the worl together. Colleen i love your shoes ;] you're the only one who got me through Geometry. Victoria and Joanna you always mak me laugh, "I like Kangaroos" I'm so glad we had study first ter freshman year together, you're awesome and always greet me w a smile. Smiling at the world is really important good things w happen to you if you smile. I'm living proof, for some reason te ers keep passing me, my personal belief is that its because I ha positive attitude.

Liam Fitzpatrick

I can't believe we made it! Congrats to the class of 2012, I seri- ously never thought these four years would end. I've met the most amazing people in these halls and I'm not sure what I'm going to do when I don't get to see you guys every day. It's so crazy how much we've all changed since we first walked throu those doors. Let me just say we're SO MUCH better looking no ) my family, for believing in me even when I struggled, thank ou so much. To all the teachers who have inspired me to work y hardest, you have all made me a better person. To the friends at have come and gone, we may not talk but I'd like to thank ou all for the memories anyways. To the friends who have stuck th me throughout our time here, you guys are seriously my ckbone and even though we're going our separate ways, you'll ways be in my heart. So, to sum up my years at Quincy High, I'm nna say: "DU HELLO!", "ALL THE PEEPALE!", "MOWWWW-WWW!" and last but CERTAINLY not least...."YOU CAN'T SIT ITH US!"

HOUT OUTS: AC, OG, MR, SH, AN, K-Ronery, and my AZN PER-JZN ^_^

chool is like toilet paper. You never know how much you need it ntil it's gone. \m/ P.S., glad it's over.

Olivia Goldson

ven though I just moved here junior year, I feel like I was able to e a big part of the class of 2012. I may live in Boston but I'm still Yankee fan, HOLLERRRRR! Moving here has definitely changed e for the better. It has opened up new opportunities to me that don't think I would have had anywhere else. I'm doing so much etter than I would if I was still in New York. I love my babies, nthony and Liam...and all the ice cream cake we NOM'd. We love od. NOMNOMNOMNOMNOMNOM. Come visit me wher-er I be! ^_^ >__> <__< v_v __ @__@ ~__~ <– these are y friends. PS., special shout out to my iPhone, you saved my life I LOVE YOU MOM! and Peter. It's yo GURL, ICES...breath... ROWN!; I got  on my white , Good morning Pooter, ou're looking dapper.

Blair Hajjar

hese past four years at Quincy High School have been some of e best years of my life. Some of my fondest memories were Spirit eeks, Homecomings, Health Class, Junior Prom, the Paris and ondon trip, the Softball season and many more. I would like to ank all my teachers, especially Mrs. Campanale, for all your sup-rt and help throughout high school. I would also like to thank my Mother, Father and Brother for their encouragement and support. And last but not least I would like to thank all my friends for making high school such a great experience for me, you all know who you are. "They happen when we least expect it. Those big moments come and change us forever. So, are we completely helpless when they come? Are we puppets, forced to live life according to these moments? No, it's what we do after these big moments come. That's what will tell us who we really are.

Theresa Hughes (Tess)

There's so many things I could mentioned in this biography, but I just don't want to write it all. I could start with how I learned some of my important art skills at QHS or how I have felt over the past couple of years or how I have accomplished nothing worth raving about or how I have never tried nutella throughout my high school. Nonetheless, I'd like to thank certain individuals who may or may not read this. Thank you to Mrs. McGinnity and Mrs. Carnahan for establishing a bases for my creativity. Thank you to Mr. Holmes for being there for me. Thank you to Elizabeth Stevens, Helen Szeto, Fanny Zhou, and Katie Jarrell who impacted my life freshmen year. Thank you to Norela Havairi for being an amazing best friend and supporting my art. Thank you to Jack Stewart for being a truly awesome best friend. Thank you to Benjamin Witunsky and Chris Peveronis for being there for me through the years.

Joshua Kasanoff

These past 4 years at Quincy High went by too fast. Class of 2012 we made it, and even though four years is a long time, it only feels like yesterday that we were freshman. I won't forget the memories we share, from the turkey day rally, being the only class to win spirit week as juniors, Friday night football games, and the unforgettable weekends. I never knew I would be where I am today, thank you to my friends who have helped make my high school experience worth it, you know who you are. Dad, Mom, Nicole, and Rachael thank you for all you're support. Thanks class of 2012 it's been great, good luck after high school!

John "Jack" Kozlowski

I'm amazed at how many of us actually succeeded. Hard work pays off. I can't even believe it. Congrats guys! Those sleepless nights were rough but we put in the handwork and made it through these past four years. Well anyways, it's been a fun four years and while everyone is sad to see it come to an end, I am probably most happy to get out of here. I was ready for college the start of junior year, mainly because I was done with the immaturities brought on by fellow students. Although I may sound bitter, it's the truth. I am so psyched to move in to the real world.

First off I would like to thank & congratulate a fellow president of mine, D'onna Roche. After much contemplation, I finally stepped up and ran for StuCo president. I saws successful and the whole experience was great. IT WAS SO MUCH WORK. But I know without D'onna I would have lost it. D'onna helped me when I was struggling. D'onna, you are awesome. We both hate when people talk over us and I love you for that! lol I'm gonna miss you so we definitely gotta stay in touch. Remember freshmen year when we were the only ones running, well look at us now.. We ran the entire school our senior year and we got $h!+ done. I LOVE YOU DEE!

Fanny, I would not have made it through these past few years without you. We defeated the odds and won science fair as partners. We had the opportunity to go to regionals as sucky as we did LOL. We helped each other through those tough school nights when we both thought we were losing it. You helped me get back on track when I needed it most and I am going to miss you so much when you go off to some world-renowned college! <3 You were my buddy and my favorite asian :) It's gonna be tough in college when I can't ask you what homework was or what the essay question on a test is. I loved spending time with you over the years and we must stay in touch in college and on!

Nicole & Shannon. You guys were like my sisters. We made it through so much stupid crap and we were always there for one another. All that fb dramzz. It was hilarious and happy we had each others' backs. We had so many laughs over the years, especially when I tripped Erin freshmen year outside of Mr. Gendron's room. I'm gonna miss all the fun we had together. Love you guys!

Caity & Erin. We are triplets. Yeah it's true, identical. These four years were comedy and I had so much fun spending time with you. We wouldn't be a trio if it was not for Blair Hajjar too! Blair's arabian self brought us closer. Caity we had a big argument junior year but got over it and it may have brought us closer. I guess that's part of friendships though. I loved spending time with you guys cuz you're all fahkenn hilarious! Today we are such good friends and I want to remain good friends forever br0s. I love you guys and erin, don't forget while I make fun of you it's all out of love.

Jev. You were my first new friend when I played soccer freshm year. You became my closest guy friend and we're still bro's to I'm gonna miss chillen with you and playing xbox when we he to college. But we both are excited for the fun college has in s for us. I wanna wish you the best of luck with everything. I reg not playing soccer junior or senior year because it kinda sprea apart, but senior year we did become closer friends again. Tha you so much for being there for me. We made a great doubles team for tennis and even though Columb loved us, we had a bl pissing him off. Stay in touch!!

Jess and Emily. Holy $h!+. We go way back to what, first and second grade. Jess me and you hung out legit everyday from second grade to like sixth grade. You were there when I broke front tooth in the pool, and my mom thought it was your fault haha looking back on that it was hilarious. I love you Jess you always there to talk to and I'm gonna miss you. Stay living aro the block so it's easy to reunite like we have over the years. Be of luck with everything! Eeg, you say it like it is. It wasn't until like seventh grade where you became so tough. LOL I love you because you are so straight forward and you are always there t vent to. I love both of you guys! Once again, Best of luck!

Everyone else, but especially Michaela Walker, Xinger Zhai, Ni Dolan, Tim, Stephanie La, Tommy, Kevin Mullin, Belleee Santorelli, Kelsey Pudder, Juli, Liz Do, Parry, Kiley, Troy, love you guys!! If I forgot anyone don't worry, you know I love everyon also wanna thank all my point friends that set an example of w not to do. You guys made me elite from everyone else because brightest bulbs don't always come from point to be honest. Tha guys, love you all~!

Over my time here at Quincy High I have had many mentors in and outside of the classroom. I would like to thank Mr. Swans Mr. Columb, Miss. Twomey, Mrs. Bacchieri, and Dr. Tongcharoensirikul for their hard work to keep me on the right track. Swanson was a major influence on me choosing to go take the road less taken. As cliche as it sounds, he proved that you can an influence through hard work. Mr. Columb was one of my ro models and he mentored me to become a better tennis player a well as a writer. He showed me that the effort I put in directly affects my performance and I took his advice. This led me to b selected as tennis captain. Miss. Twomey was an icon through chaotic ways but she showed me that organization helps. Mrs. chieri was my most favored english teacher and she made lear fun and I miss her enthusiasm. Dr. T was my favorite teacher. showed me that being attentive and working hard will prove to be the key to success. She taught me more than my brain coul handle and at one point I reached a breaking point but she hel me get through it. I would also like to thank Mr. Harris and M Ellis who both played a key role in Student Council, as well as ntoro. I must also thank Mrs. Croke for her entertainment for , Jev, Nick and Tim period 3 of our sophomore year. I must also te the daily "Hi" or "Hello" from Mr. Gendron while walking in e halls.

ould also like to thank my mother, Stephanie, and father, Steen, for providing me with whatever I needed over the course of 17 years because without them I simply would have no motivan to be successful. They are both hard workers and I love them.
ey are my inspiration because they work so hard and demon-ate how to be truthful and honest. Just some more reasons why ve them. I would also like to thank my siblings Stephanie and ephen for knocking sense in to me when needed and show-me right from wrong. If it was not for everyone's guidance, I uldn't looked at Ivy League schools as I was applying to college.
ank you & I love you all! R.I.P. Aunt Judy & Uncle Larry

Albania, people say that your teachers are your second parents.
d it's true because, well, you have your parents who teach you about life, and you have your teachers who teach you other portant things. Your parents know you because you are their ild, and your teachers know you because they are parents them-ves. And if they are single, they will know you because they re once just like you and me, one way or another. I would like thank from the bottom of my heart all of my teachers who have d me in these four years of high school, and the whole staff of

IS for their tremendous work. And not leaving out my friends o have always been there for me through good and bad times.
d a very special thank you for my mother and my father who ve taught me and advised me through life, and my one and only ecial brother Mario, who is the best brother and person that yone would be very lucky to know and have as a friend. I am y proud and lucky to have a brother like Mario. High school is about fun, so enjoy it to the very fullest.

e memories I have made through my four years at Quincy High l last a lifetime. Like the ropes course freshmen year, going to the State Semi-Finals for volleyball sophomore year, and throwing the winning touchdown to beat the seniors for spirit week junior year. I will always cherish these memories. I'd like to thank my family for all the love and support they gave me through the years. Also, to my teachers who made Quincy High such a great experience for me. Especially to Ms. Martin! A – Accountants For Life (EC, KM, KK, EN, DN). To all my friends I've made along the way, I couldn't have mad it without all of you; Belle, Troy, Shannon, Lamie, Nick, John, Jack, and Connor. I love you all. And to Blair Hajjar and Kiley McDonald, you two were always there for me. I couldn't have asked for anyone better then you guys and I know we will always be together in the future. Lastly to Erin Chiocchio and Nicole Parry, it's been 11 years. That's over a decade of friendship, memories, fights, celebrations, and everything in between. I wouldn't trade you guys for anything and I cant wait for all the years to come. I'm going to miss Quincy High and everyone in it but it is now time for all of us to more forward with our lives because it is just the beginning

Dayna Madeiros

At the beginning of high school, senior year seemed so far away, but looking back I realize it came a lot faster than I thought it would. So much has happened in the last four years and I've met some people that I will never forget. There have been countless good times in Drama Club and Skills USA; I am really glad to have been a part of these clubs. After college I want to become an actuary, let's hope that works out! I have had a great four years at Quincy High, and I would like to thank my friends and teachers for all the memories and tolerating my craziness. Especially those close friends that don't look at me funny when I meow at them in the hallway. Good luck to the Class of 2012!

Victoria Maldonado

Going into high school as a freshman is scary and complicated. But when you have awesome studies like the one Rose and I had freshman year, it's a bit easier. Sophomore year is a little harder, because you have that pressure of choosing a major. After a year of amazing memories in Campa's health class, I realized that nursing just wasn't my thing. Culinary wasn't either, though Joanna enjoyed the various food I'd bring up to her in Miller's bio class. Then I realized I don't have to have a major and since then I've taken almost every elective possible. Junior year is awesome, but flies by way too fast. I spent the entire year complaining about Howard's impossible chemistry class, but now I'm wishing I had just one more year with Joanna, Rose, Carolyn, and Dayna. Lunch without Cassandra just won't feel right when we're gone. Senior year is going to go by even faster than Junior year, so I'm going to embrace it and make these last few months here at QHS really count for something.

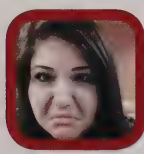
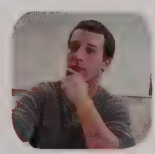
Coleman Mccarron

Even though this has been my first year at QHS it has not taken me long to get to know people. All I can say about the students here is that everyone loves to hate each other. They would do anything to pick a fight with each other, on some form of social networking 95% of the time. Johnny, John, Nick and Peter it's been a pleasure destroying you in fantasy football. Think Work Share

Kiley McDonald

"I always knew looking back on my tears would bring me laughter, but I never knew looking back on my laughter would make me cry." -Cat Stevens.I can honestly say attending Quincy High has been the best three years of my life. I will never forget all of the memories I have made here. First I would like to thank the two most important people in my life, my mom and dad. It may sound cliche but I honestly would be no where without you two.





You've made me who I am today and I will always love you. Also thank you to my three younger brothers, Jack, Michael, and Dylan, you've put up with me all through highschool and sometimes I don't know how you did it, I love you guys. To the teachers thank you for teaching me so much not only about school but about life. You have taught me things that I will remember for the rest of my life. Finally to all of my classmates, teamates, friends and bestfriends, I would not have wanted to spend the last three years with anyone else. Each and every one of you have touched my heart in some way and I will never forget any of you. Now starts a new chapter in our lives... See you all again sometime, somewhere, along the way.

Carolyn McDonagh

When I started high school I remember thinking how long it must take, four whole years. But the truth is it flew by. Lots of things have changed since freshman year, remember the tech? My locker was on the bridge and it was crazy trying to get to it after school. I remember trekking it across to Coddington and climbing up the stairs to Mr. Lang's class and wondering how we all managed to do it everyday. But these are just distant memories now. Each brought new challenges to all of us, but somehow we all made through. One thing that helped me through was my band fami Honestly I don't know what I'll do without all of you; I truly w be a band geek for life. I'll especially miss the band girls, we've been together since that first day freshman year and I feel like known you guys my whole life. And how can I not mention the drama club. I have great memories from the old and new audi ums, and from the three different directors I've had the oppor nity to work with. In high school I reunited with old friends, m new friends, and lost some friends. I'll never forget you guys a you mean the world to me, and you know who you are. I'm pr to say I'm in the class of 2012 and honestly I'm really proud o of us. There isn't a doubt in my mind that the people I've met Quincy High School are going to go on to do amazing things wish you all the best of luck.

Joanna McGroarty

We started out together not knowing what to do or where to g We had fun trying to walk from the old building, across the br and into the Tech building all in a matter of four minutes. Yet, we seemed to survive. Freshman year was interesting meeting new people and staying away from certain other people. After finally got settled, it was time to move into the new building t for some reason we had to call the "A building", and maneuve ourselves throughout there. Sophomore year brought about n new "sister" from Mr. Uhlar's geometry class. Carolyn you're t best! Health class with Campa was the most memorable exper ence of my life thanks to Victoria and Cassandra. It was then i junior year that things got a bit more challenging. The new sc was finally done and everyone was able to use the excuse of g ting lost even though we were no longer those little freshmen. However, the classes we took seemed a little tougher especiall Quarter 4 where band got to partake in making a movie. A gre experience but definitely not something any of us seemed to v to pursue. Now our senior year has come to an end and it seer that it's time for us all to move on with our lives. The one thin I'm going to miss overall, is band class in the morning, I don't know what I'm going to do when I can't see my "band family" every day. Thank you so much to all my friends who were able make these past four years incredible! (CM, VM, CS, HA, JH, R CA,) Love you all!

Shauna Mendall

nally we're seniors! I never thought I'd see the day, it seems ke yesterday we were freshman and all getting lost on our way to ass. These past four years at Quincy High have been very memo-ble from all the rally's to homecoming to KM and let's not forget arassing Mr. Sommers! Thank you Mr. Johnston for being the st Dean and making these past four years a great experience. I n't imagine what high school would have been like for me if I dn't have Mrs. Carvalho and Mrs. Principi pushing me to be a tter student. Thanks to all my friends you know who you are! "A ream Is A Wish Your Heart Makes" I'll never forget any of you s been real class of 2012(:

Kayla Mills

I was to go back to freshman year and assume how y four years of high school were going to turnout would have never imagined the time to go by so
st. These four years have been filled with joy, tears, ghts, and many new friends. Somewhere between l the dreaded Monday's, half-day Tuesday's, and all the Friday's we looked forward to, memories were ade and will never be forgotten. As life goes on I will ways remember my 4 strong years at Quincy High chool. Our one year in the tech, walking to Coddingn in the rain, wind, and snow, and the anticipation of ie new school had created a mixture of feelings and a ider array of experiences than past years had to deal ith. Moving forward I will always remember all the eat times thanks to all the girls, my ECE trio, C.W. nd B.C. and Ms. A for all the passes to classes (and a eat education). I leave QHS knowing I received an ducation but also built friendships I know I will keep r life. XOXO Kayla

Coin Moriarty

hen I first came to Quincy High School, I had no idea what to pect. I didn't have many friends here only my cousins Shannon d JP. I soon learned, however, that you can be totally awkward e myself and still make friends at Quincy High. The school emed strange to me at first but it didn't take more than two onths for me to feel right at home. I joined some pretty interest-g clubs like Skills USA with one of my best teachers I've had in high school, Mr. Holmes. I've had so much fun working with those in Skills USA and going on competitions even though I have never won anything. Throughout my three years at Quincy High, I've met some friends that I can safely say have been through so much with me. I want to thank Kevin Mullin for always sticking by me and providing some relief through his constant sarcasm. I want to thank my Turkish brothers: Onur Zorteymur, Burak Sezer and Armagan Sezer for providing me with advice when I felt lost. Thank you, Dayna Maderios for always putting up with my short jokes and for always being there to ask for homework. I also want to thank Nick Dolan, Jev Vaflor and Daniel Mongo for not only being my teammates and fellow captains but also for being great friends. Finally, I'd like to thank my friends John Bottary, Nick Lepore, Johnny O'Callaghan and Peter Giunta for arguing over fantasy football every day that can always make me laugh and for always wanting to get buffalo chicken. Even though three years ago I may have been "that kid from Ireland" or "Shannon's cousin", I feel like I can now say that people know my name even if it's spelled weird...Thanks for a great three years Quincy High!

Daniel Mongo

Can't believe these years have gone by so quick. Soccer, Basketball, and Volleyball were mad fun. 94 represent ba-baybay-baybay.

Kevin Mullin

High School I am going to miss you. I'm going to miss the soccer team and everyone on it. Even though through the years we may not have been the best, it was great for all our hard work to pay off this year in an awesome season, beating North twice. Thanks to all those players past and present that have stuck through it with me and worked so hard throughout the years. As for the baseball team, thanks to all the players that played with me on this team too. Again we weren't the best, but everyone worked hard, had fun, and never gave up. I'd like to thank my family for helping me out through these four long years. Also the teachers that had to deal with me through this time, Mr. Tully, Mr. Long, Mrs. Twomey, and Mr. Columb just to name a few. Most of all I'd like to thank all those other students who have been through this experience with me. It would be too hard to name everybody - you guys all know who you are. It was a battle at times, with all of our advanced classes, but they always had my back and I had , and together we made it.

Johnny O'Callaghan

Quincy Hiigh it's been real. Thank you quincy hockey for everything. Think work share.

Bridget O'Connor

I'm so happy I decided to switch to QHS for junior and senior year because I know that my high school experience would not have been half as good if I had stayed at North. I met so many great people here that made me who I am today and that I know I will be important to me for the rest of my life. We've had so many amazing times here and as sad as it is to leave I know that it is a new beginning for all of us. I just want to say thank you to all my friends! You guys made the last few years amazing and I love all of you!

Brielyn O'Leary

Can't believe 2012 is here already. To Mom, Dad, Jilli, James and Daniel, and all my best friends at QHS especially Bridget, D'onna, Isabelle,Julia, Troy, Coleman, Johnny, John, Nick, Peter, all the soccer girls and Danceworks girls, thanks so much for everything. I couldn't have asked for a better four years of high school, and I will never forget all the great memories we have made.

Jake O'Brien

I was a loser. Now I'm not. Go team!

Nicole Parry

High School has taught me that I do not need all of the people that I meet, my close friends are the only people to truly depend on. For all my friends through school like Juli, Blair, Nick, Mongo, John, and others, thank you so much for all the fun times! Caity and Erin, since first. Enough said. Best always. And Kiley you don't know how happy I was when you transferred to Quincy because I knew we would be the best of friends, we still are, and always will be. Love you and can't wait to see what comes along next. So many good times during volleyball and softball, high school wouldn't have been the same without it! Good luck in the upcoming seasons!

Kelsey Pudder

Class of 2012, its been real. Stay golden ponyboy's.

D'onna Roche

I will always cherish my four years at Quincy High. I've made many memories with so many great people and I want to than them. To my cheerleaders, I love you all and keep doing what do best. You're all amazing and you can go so far! I also want thank Mr. J and Mr. Santoro who have helped with so much a helped to make the Class of 2012 so great. Jack, you've been a great friend and you can always put a smile on my face. Brie and Bridget, you guys have been such amazing friends. You've both gotten me through so much and I don't know what I wo have done without you. To all of my boys, I couldn't have aske for better friends to grow up with. We have too many laughs a memories to count. You guys have been there for me through everything and you all mean the world to me. Chrissy, Chriss Juli, I love you girls so much. We've been with each other for of the important things in our lives and I know I can depend you three for anything. Even in we're apart next year, I know nothing will ever change our friendships. I also want to thank Dad, Mom, and Paulie. You've been right behind me every ste the way. I appreciate all of you and I would never be where I a today without your help and support. Lastly, I want to thank entire Class of 2012. These four years have been incredible an flown by. With confidence, I can say that we are one of the be classes to graduate Quincy High School. Congratulations to e one, I never thought this time would come, but we made it!

Morgan Rowe

Even though I didn't spend my whole 4 years at Quincy High, welcomed coming here my junior year! I will never forget the I had here with Mr. columb the dirty bubble and Mrs. Ajemian childcare class. My weekends were unforgettable at PI KM MT I'll never forget the times I had here and I hope they carry on with the same people even after high school! My best friends always be my best <3 SH PM KD AC KE SM LF t's finally over! Four years have flown by, and it's hard to decide f that's a good thing or a bad thing. What I know for sure is that would never have made it through these years without my best riends - Vic, Michaela, Joshie, and everyone else I spent all my ime with, I love you guys to death. Thanks, Vic, for going to seven oncerts with me last summer, a record for us, even though by the ime Kenny Chesney was over, we were so done. Heather, I know we ight alot, but you're still my sister, and I love you. Class of 2012, WE IADE IT! Growing up and moving on will be scary, but we can do it

Julia Tomer (Juli, Juju)

Never ever thought this day would come! As cliché as it sounds, hese past four years have flown by uncontrollably. I couldn't ossibly fit the immense amount of stuff I have endured, learned, njoyed; so I'll keep it short! Throughout the past four years I've earned that no matter how great of a friend you are to people, nore than likely it will not be reciprocated... So thank you, to my riends who have stuck by my side these past four years, but also hank you to the others who have opened my eyes. I won't be leav- ng high school with the mindset that I have lost more friends than have gained, because it's not that upsetting, it's a form of matura- ion. Although I always complain about living in Quincy, I wouldn't e the same person I am today had I not gone to school with these mazing people. Neck girls (including Jess and Ashbash), you will 'OREVER be a part of me, 14 years strong. My school friends (Liz- ard, Parry, Jack, DJ, E-Dawg) I don't know how I could have sur- ived through those endless doubles without you guys. Shout-out o my basketball girls (Ky, Cait, Lam) from 7th grade to now. It's mazing what we've accomplished together and no matter what we o through, I'm more than glad to have suffered through 4 minutes f "fun" with you biddies. I love you girls! Last but certainly not east, thanks Mumma, Dada, and Naynay! I wouldn't be anywhere vithout your love! It's been real Q, but I'm glad it's over ;)

I have learned many things at Quincy High , not all academics but nore life lessons than anything. I had some of the best times with ll of my friends. Freshman year we did whatever we wanted with ut a care in the world. I came in to QHS with only my "Point" riends and after this year I met a bunch of new people. I will never orget having to hike it to homeroom the first day, it was at the op floor of the tech. That day I got the great locker number of 66.. Great way to start my future at Quincy High with that locker umber. Right? Sophomore year was a different story with the start of change to a new school. I had so much fun in Mrs. A's class with everyone and Imhoff's, deffinatily my two favorite classes that year. Junior year was the year that I went to Paris and London and dont forget those few hours in Iceland.. Yaaa. We all create our own stories, and each time we think we know the end- we dont. perhaps luck exists somewhere between the world of planning, the world of chioce, and peace that comes from knowing that you cant know it all, lifes fully that way. once you letgo of the wheel- you might endup where you belong. Its been great everyone!

High school sucks, it makes you realize your parents have been lying to you your whole life. Ever since I was little my mom and dad told me I could be what ever I wanted to be. If only that where true I would be a ninja and I would walk in the shadows of the school. Math. Nope. Use my katana no more homework! But what our parents where really doing was teaching us that we need to have dreams and goals in our life. To be the best we cab be. Quincy High School and the people in it allowed us to be who we are now and push us to be who we are going to be. Thats why these past four years have been great and I have been influenced by all of you. Thanks friends and staff for making an excelllent experiance. Going to miss my Broskies! "Flying is learning how to throw yourself at the ground and miss." - Douglas Adams

By the time we get this yearbook, we have already graduated from high school. The SENI012 class of 2012 has definitely shown to themselves and to everyone in the school that we have been the best class that this school has ever had during our four years here. However, despite the great accomplishments our class have achieved, we are not as perfect as others think we are. Every- one has one type of conflict or another with another person, or another group of people. I, for one, know that I don't like a lot of the people here at Quincy High School, but I was happy that I befriended the people that I did. I know I was pretty direct in the last sentence, but I truly am grateful for all the friends I have made throughout my fours years at Quincy High. I have learned so much from them and for that I thank you guys. I also want to thank all the teachers that have guided me through school and given me the help I needed when I needed it. I also want to give a small blurb about Mr. Swanson. Although I didn't really know him for that long, I was happy that he got me so involved in tennis because I love playing tennis and I have gained many great friends, and coaches, through playing tennis. So I guess it's now time to move on with our lives again. Welps, I hope that I see everyone during the class reunion, or maybe not. LOL :D

It's Mr. Carew's second year with the Quincy High School Choir. He has brought a new life to the choir students, illustrating the various aspects of the vocal arts. He directs the full Concert Choir, the Horizons Choir, and a Solo/Ensemble group, in addition to organizing a number of solo and duet performances for each concert event. He has inspired a confidence and love of music in his students, that can only be gained through experience.

A Time For Giving

- The band thought it would be nice to get Mr. K. a present for their last Winter Concert.
- Mr. K. always used odd objects, like pencils, to keep the beat during class at Quincy, yet had an actual baton at North.
- The band decided if he had a baton at North, he should have one here at Quincy as well, so everyone chipped in to buy him one.
- Copresidents Joanna McGroarty and Carolyn McDonagh presented it to him before the last song of the night.

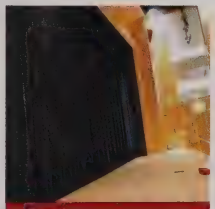
Winter Concert

This year's annual Winter Concert was one to remember, from the fantastic singing of the choir to the amazing talent of the band members. When the two came together to perform, everyone in the audience was moved and filled with holiday spirit. The choir and band had been practicing their pieces since October and it showed! There was a wide range of holiday songs performed and even a dance routine from the chorus and a special suprise for the band leader, Mr. K., from his devoted students.

Senior band copresidents Carolyn McDonagh and Joanna McGroarty describe the night, "Even though it was a hectic night, jumping from one thing to another, going on and performing those songs made it all worthwhile. We never realized how prepared the band actually was until everyone was on stage and we looked at each other thinking, 'Wow, we sound pretty great!' It was amazing to see everything come together as if each member knew it all by heart. Although it's sad to think that this was the last Winter Concert us seniors will ever be a part of, we can't begin to complain because it turned out to be so memorable."



The Winter Concert was held in the Lloyd H. Hill Auditorium.

The songs sung include White Christmas, Rise Shephard and Follow, Oh Tenanbaum, Oh Holy Night, and Somewhere in My Memory. The choirs act included a dance and song number titled "Slow Rocking Christmas" featured in picture 3. The Band played three songs alone and a forth with the choir. The songs played include; Joyful All Ye Nations, Huron Indian Carol, and Chaunuka Festival of Lights. The night was filled with exciting moments, unsuspected suprises, and many smiles.

BOYS HOCKEY

Out of Many Comes One

Seniors Peter Giunta, John Jones, Justin Keenan, Coleman McCarron, Adam Nazzaro, John O'Callaghan, and Connor Quinn will never forget their very last hockey season at Quincy High School. One of the best memories the boys will have is the memory of this season's victory against their cross-town rivals, the North Quincy Red Raiders. Despite the doubts of many people, the boys pulled off the win with a 2-1 lead in the last period. Freshman Patrick Freeman lead the team to victory by scoring both goals. His cousin, senior Justin Keenan, had one of the best games of his career in goal, blocking off 31 shots, ultimately leading to the win. As the first win they had all season, this game was memorable, especially for the seniors, who played against two former teammates and major competitors. Coaches Tim Lewis, Ted Walsh, and Mike McPherson could not have been prouder of their team. The seniors will always look back on these past four years and cherish the memories they made playing on this team.

GIRLS HOCKEY

Out of Many Comes One

The girls hockey team is unlike most Quincy High Sports. They are combined with North Quincy High School girls, to come together as one team. Despite having two rival teams join together, they produce a great team and put their differences aside. They didn't always have the best of luck, but the girls still managed to fight through hard times and tough games with standing by each others back. After all, the team went from two seperate high schools, to one giant sisterhood.

BOYS BASKETBALL

Walking onto the court this fall, the boys basketball seniors were anticipating an exciting season, as were spectators. With six returning players, this team had experience written all over. As they welcomed the younger players, everyone combined to form a ruthless force, one that intimidated all of its contendors. They started off the year beating one of the hardest teams in D1 South Duxbury. After, they just barely came up short losing a cliffhanger to North Quincy. This season so far has had it's ups and downs, an excited and uncertain season for sure. This group of boys have worked diligently in the off season to prepare for this roller coaster of a ride. Through summer league, fall league, and endless lifting sessions, the boys came into the season ready. The boys made the state tournament again, with a respectable season record of 10-10. With a team this athletic and fast, they're prepared to be the underdog for the D2 south bracket.

CAPTIAN QUOTES

Jalen: " This years team is a special group, we have potential to possibly go to the tournament and make it far." "We're like a family, everyone gets along and we all have alot of team chemistry, and it's been a pleasure to play with this group of boys."

Zerrick: " As a captain, I've had the experience of playing at both North Quincy and Quincy, which has been the best of both worlds. It's been interesting and I'm going to miss them next year."

Reggie: " I love my brothers and these four years have been interesting but it brought memories I won't forget. We just got to keep grinding and working and if we do that, there's no saying what the future will hold for us."

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Leaving a Lasting Legacy

Five years ago six youngsters came together with one thing in common, their love for basketball. No one anticipated the impact they'd have on the Quincy High girls basketball team, but it's proved to be significant. Last year, the whole team worked incredibly hard to create a record-breaking 17-3 record. Although they lost first round in the state tournament, they notably raised the bar for any girls basketball team in the city. Coming into this season with four returning starters, the girls were more eager than ever to get revenge. As they pushed through saturday morning practices with endless laps, weightlifting, and pain-stricken workouts, they proved themselves to be tough enough to compete with anyone. The team's chemistry is the greatest strength to this team, these girls are fortunate enough to be best friends on and off the court, which clearly shows during games. As always this season will be successful and memorable for the players, parents, and coaches.

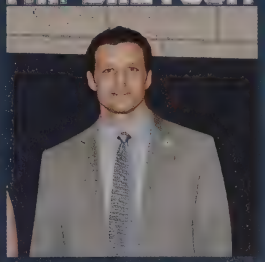
Juli Tomer, Senior

THE COACH

MR. BRETSCH



This is Coach Bretsch's 15th year at Quincy High School and this year was his 11th year coaching varsity girl's basketball. QHS hadn't had a winning season in 20 years and only made the tournament 8 out of the last 11 years. However, that began to change within the past couple of years. Coach Bretsch won his hundredth game last year (134 this past season) and led his team to the Division 2 sectional semifinals in 2005-2006. His team then made the Division 1 sectional semifinals this year, making it all the way to the third round! Coach is such a strong believer in making sure his team is always just as academically successful, which shows since his teams have been awarded the MIAA Team Academic Gold Medal winners in the past 11 seasons.

SWIMMING & DIVING

The Quincy/North Swim Team is combined with both high schools, North Quincy and Quincy with about 40 students. Coach Bob McGillicuddy leads the team with senior captian Taryn Urbanus and sophomore Elio Daci as they strive to put aside a history of rivalry and come together as one. Taryn Urbanus stole sectionals placing first and went onto States placing third, shattering her personal records that she set for Quincy High with high score of 515. The team practices at Lincoln Hancock five times a week, for about 2 hours. The hard word and strong dedication showed as the team endured a successful swim season.

The Quincy High wrestlers have always considered themselves brothers, hopefully the tradition is carried on for years to come. Thank you Coach Lane for all your hard work and dedication to this team. Also, thank you Coach Yen Troung for showing us all of those crazy ninja-like moves. A special thanks to all of you returning QHS wrestling alumni. Thanks for a great season! MATH CLUB e mind of a great mathematician is like the body of a great athlete: strong, supple, swift and aceful. Just as an athlete must train rigorously, the best mathematicians work out regularly, taking puzzles, mind-benders and even those most dreaded word problems! This year, Quincy High hool's top mathematicians include our high scorers on the NEML contests Jerry Li, Ting Ting n, Ying Chen, and Iris Zheng. Ms. Lauren Pritchard and Mrs. Virginia Snell advise Quincy High hool's Math Club, which is part of Mu Alpha Theta, the National Honor Society for high school ath clubs. Together members enjoy and celebrate their love of math, whether it's in sharing vorite problems or helping students with homework dilemmas. The club always welcomes new embers, so if you want to know what's fun about math, come join us--we'll show you!

CHOIR

The Quincy High School Choir spends each semester working together to create a performance of songs for each concert. During the winter season they travelled to a nearby Rehab Facility to sing with the residents. Class time involves not only learning the songs, but also how to read music. Mr. Carew picks a set list with a variety of mus reflecting different cultures, genres, and eras.

DRAMA

he Drama club proudly puts together three shows every year: a drama, a musical, and comedy. Out of the senior class there is a plethora of talent between actors, dancers, roduction managers, builders, and scenic artists. The core group of seniors have been orking together since freshman year creating a strong bond not usually found. As Mr. oucette says, "They are his A-Team!"

he awesome thing is we've never really been mad at each other and we're all for the am, rain or shine, sleep deprived or not, we can conquer anything. You need a heart-haped platform that moves? No problem." - Rose Fitzmaurice, senior

SADD

SADD is brand new to Quincy High, initially it started as Students Against Driving Drunk. SA National realized the potential impact it could make and changed it's name to Students Aga Destructive Decisions. Our SADD Chapter's motto for this year is: Lets Make a Difference ar the fifty group members are doing just that! We're all really excited to get involved with our school and community. SADD held a Drug Awareness Week, bringing in speakers including Chris Herren and John Morello. It partnered with the Best Buddies Organization helping and working with peers that have Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities. And, SADD brough Rachel's Challenge to the students of Quincy High. The members of the SADD Chapter are excited to make a difference and continue.

CREW

This was the first year that we had a crew team at Quincy High School. Crew is both a fall and spring sport so the athletes practiced for twice as long as any other team at the school. The crew team has two seniors: Isabelle Schulte, and Makenna Schiffman. These girls, along with the rest of the team, were very excited when they learned Crew was going to be a sport at QHS. Although it may seem pretty simple, crew takes a lot of hard work and dedication. Practices entail running, circuit drills, preparing the boats, and rowing. The team really bonded over their strenuous workouts and learning about their new boats. Crew is a sport where teamwork is a necessity because in order for the boat to travel fast and stay balanced, each person in it must be completely in sync. Throughout the fall and spring the team prepared for their first race in the beginning of the summer. Crew is sure to have a large following in the years to come.

The Quincy High boys lacrosse team had a great season as they prepared themselves for a building year. As the team included si returning senior varisty players, the experianced players helped out with the underclassmen. With a new head coach, Bob Foley, the boys worked extremely hard to futher their lacrosse skills and excell within each other. The Defense was led by three freshmen which promises a great future for the lacrosse program. The Quincy High Boys lacrosse team is in one of the toughest leagues in Massachusetts and the boys did extremely well as they competed among the top seeds in Massachusetts.

It was a tough season, but defintely one of the most fun. I'll never forget it."

GIRLS LACROSSE

The Quincy High School Girls Lacrosse Program has a long istory of great seasons. The senior girls experianced the programs rst trip to the tournement in 2010. With every single girl on the team coring a goal this season, this team is a threat. With an injury early n the season, starting goalie Sarah Goonan was forced to sit out. The eam had a breakthrough when sophomore Maddy Kamb stepped up o the plate holding one of the best records for saves Quincy High has ver seen. This year the girls have made a lot of progress as the team rought in a new coaching staff, Coach Tim Lewis and Caroline Hicks. acrosse was new to Lewis but he adjusted well bringing the team o many victories and overcoming obstacles. Senior captians Oliva Goldson and Emily Nguyen led the team through a successful season. The girls hold the best record for all of the Quincy Lacrosse teams. Competiting in one of the toughest leagues, Coach Lewis has high opes for his team. The girls will never forget Coach Lewis's incredible notivational speeches before a game or the consistant dominance over heir rival, North Quincy.

SOFTBALL

This year, four returning seniors came onto the field anticipating a successful season. In the past, Quincy High Girls Softball team has been known to have accurate hitters and a fierce pitcher, along with an impressive record. The team started off with a pretty good run and plans to consistently work hard to make the tournament, which they've made the past 4 years. The girls have a dedicated staff, including Mr. Sommers as head coach, with other volunteers who take time out of their own schedule to better this team. There are four seniors, three of who are captains; Caitlyn Lowry, Nicole Parry, and Erin Chiocchio. Although they have a very intimidating senior line-up, they wouldn't be as successful if it weren't for the help of the underclassmen, making up the majority of the team. Overall, Quincy High Girl's Softball team is competitive, hard-working, and determined; the formula for a legacy-leading team.

BASEBALL

The Quincy High varsity boys baseball team has been previously very successful and has made the tournament consistently for the past three years. The starting line up is jam packed with fierce seniors who give everything each game. It also doesn't hurt that the roster has a lot of talented underclassmen, emphasizing a promising future. Coming into this season, everyone anticipated a long year ahead of them since they have such a young team; as expected, everything fell instantly into place. Although they play some tough teams in the Patriot League, they're working hard each day to compete in the league and make the tournament. As with every rivalry, the QHS boys baseball team awaits an exciting game verse North Quincy. All in all, this is an experienced, yet youthful team which promises a successful season, with hope for the future in Quincy High baseball.

VOLLEYBALL

The senior boys will never forget their very last volleyball season after playing together since Freshman year. Coach Lok Tin Yao was new to the team this year, and he could not have been prouder to take control of a team this great. The boy's success was a team effort and each individual player had an important role in the games. Senior Zerek Fadaro is best known for his tremendous spiking as an outside hitter. He worked together with Danny Vo, the other outside hitter to make the team unstoppable. Coleman McCarron was best known for his blocking as a middle hitter, along with Daniel Mongo who was the opposite hitter. John Bottary, the Libero for the team was responsible for digging the ball and sending it up to the Setter Tim McNally, his main job is to set the ball for the next hit. The teamwork that the senior boys displayed this season is ultimately what has lead them to their success and will set a precedent for the team in the next years that follow.

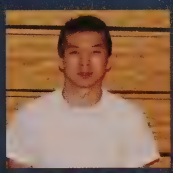
QHS WELCOMES



Quincy High School could not have been more excited to welcome Lok Tin Yao into our school as the new boy's volleyball coach. Lok Tin Yao has played volleyball for many years, and spent four years playing for Mount Ida College. Not only is he the coach for our Quincy High boys team, but he also coaches the Lesley University Men's Volleyball team and the Wheaton College Girl's Volleyball team. He has dedicated all of his time to the sport that he loves and has helped the Quincy High School Presidents achieve success.

TENNIS

The tennis team works hard throughout the spring to make them the fittest team on the court. They play competitively in their league under the coaching of Mr. Columb, who coaches the boys, Ms. Matthews, who coaches the girls, and the new JV coach, Mr. Miller. The varsity team consists of three singles players and two doubles teams. Boys and girls play separately, and the overall eight varsity positions are determined by a series of challenge matches. The tennis team is a no-cut team, so everybody who is interested is welcome to play. Everyone has the opportunity to play sometime during the season.

QHS HAS TALENT!

This year, Quincy High held their annual talent show with a lot of new faces and returners, hoping to steal the show. Regardless of being stage fright, these contenders all stood up confidently in front of their judges and peers and did an amazing job. The act of the break dancing team caught the attention of everyone in the room, earning them first place. Running up in second was William Donatelli, singing a heartfelt song dedicated to his girlfriend. Coming up in third place was Jasmine Eltoury, who won first place last year, accompanied by Anthony D'Alto. As you can imagine, this year's talent show was a success and included many skilled and creative performers.

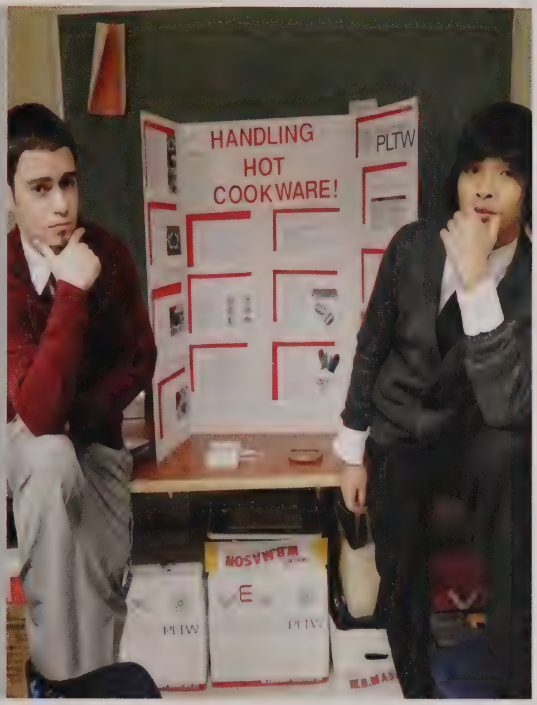
THINK. WORK. SHARE. AT THE SCIENCE FAIR!



This year's annual Science Fair contained 148 projects, all submitted by students in grades 9-12. The fields covered included chemistry, biology, physics, environmental science, and engineering. Topics that were investigated were subliminal messages, biofuel development, antioxidant levels of fruits and vegetables, and many more. Through these projects, the students have gained critical and creative thinking, communication, teamwork, and ethical-decision making skills. The students in the science fair have also had the amazing opportunity of working one-on-one with teachers and professionals that helped them not only learn about their topic of study but also go in depth with "real world" science and engineering problems. The Science Fair this year would not have been possible or such a big success without the help of the incredible support from the community. 90 volunteers from different science and technology fields gave their time and helped judge the projects. Each year students from Quincy High School represent their school by working on diverse projects and in the end, celebrate there accomplishments with the community. Students, this year, who have received accolades for their projects include Sarah Ahmed, Wenzheng Yu, Christine Tran, Eoin Moriarity, Peter Guinta, Nam Thai, Tanya Tonnu, Lawrence Tran, Michelle Lee, Elio Daci, Martha Pham, Ying Ge Wang, Lindsay Schrier, Xylena Desquitado, Steven Simmons, Shamus Hill-Torres, Kun Yi Li, Henry Yip, Marlena Forester, Madison Kirby, Matt Mclellan, and Ying Ge Wang.

CULTURAL PRIDE!

The entire QHS staff and students body anxiously awaits the Cultural Fair every year. The Cultural Fair is a huge celebration of the diversity here at Quincy High. It is always a day filled with music, food dancing, and fun. It's a great oppurtunity to see the students get excited about representing their countries or countries they are interested in. Also, the students show their leadership abilities by planning most of the event themselves and taking care of running their own tables.

STRUT YOUR STUFF!

The Quincy High fashion show is always one to be remembered. Our school is known throughout the city for having some of the most artistic and creative kids, especially in the fashion field. Not only were these dresses made with care and effort, which was evident by the high quality results, but there were so many unique pieces in this show. Mrs. Walsh, the clothing teacher, guided her students day in and day out to prepare their outfits for this big night. There is not really a normal for these dresses and the level of individuality and inventiveness is off the charts. For example, there is a dress made entirely of ties, sewn carefully together. One dress was even covered in merely flowers. The description of the outfits that were presented at the fashion show could never give the clothes justice, they truly had to be seen in person for the audience to see its beauty. The fashion show was a success to say the least, and was a chance for the clothing students to present their finest work.

Spring Concert

Mr. Carew

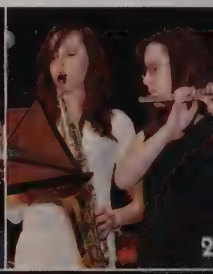
"Angela, Cassandra, Dan, Joanna K., Joanna M.,Josh, Laurel, and Shanae. It has been a pleasure having you in the QHS Choir in 2011-2012. Your leadership and contribution has meant a great deal to our growing ensemble. I WISH YOU ALL THE BEST. We will miss your talents! "

Mr. K Says:

What a great four years, a new Bandroom, Six Flags, "Here Comes the Boom", Henrey Winkler, ect. I wish you all the best in all you do.

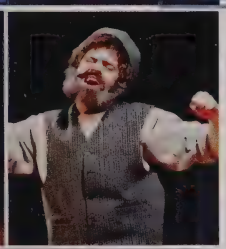
Be good and work hard.

Every year the Spring Concert comes and goes. Students work from Christm Vacation until May and every year it goes by in a blur. This year performed by t band were the songs "Hey Pedro" "Allegro Barbaro" "Pink Panther" and "Devil we down to Georgia." and sung by the choir were "Sieze the Moment" "On Broadwa "Corner of the Sky" "Gloria" ""Fengu Song" and "Take me to the Water." No during Senior year, as the last concert passes and the band and choir practi for graduation, the seniors get ready to leave the old routine behind. Though t seniors are leaving the music program behind, they will never leave their frien behind. Choir and band are about trust, you have to trust that the group will there for support. That trust will never go away.



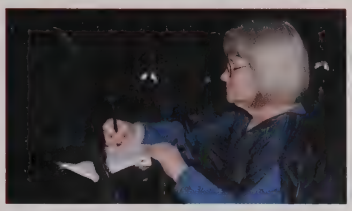
1. The band performing "Hey Pedro"
2. Seniors Carolyn and Joanna Performing their solo
3. Senior Dan Hennessy singing with the choir.
4. The choir listening attentively to Mr.Carew's direction.

1. The seniors
2. Junior and Freshman leads sing their love song
3. Erin McMillen and John Yacano dance during the wedding scene
4. Safa Alfageeh as Yente the Matchmaker earned claps every night
5. Jess Hurd giving cues from the light both
6. Senior Dan Hennessey testing the speakers on stage



Fiddler on the Roof was such a blast to put on this year. It tells the story of a Russian Jewish family in the early 20th century and their struggle with Tradition. Though the Drama Club was originally planning on performing Peter Pan, Fidder seemed a bit more fitting. Our lives are a constant break from Tradition, just as the show states.

The seniors would like to thank Mrs. Spencer for instilling a sense of tradition in them with her ever present meticulous notes and her loving hand written thank you cards. They would also like to thank the under classmen for their love and dedication to the program. As the traditional saying goes: break a leg next year.



Peg Spencer

"'Kiss today goodbye
The sweetness and the sorrow
Wish me luck
The same to you Can't forget
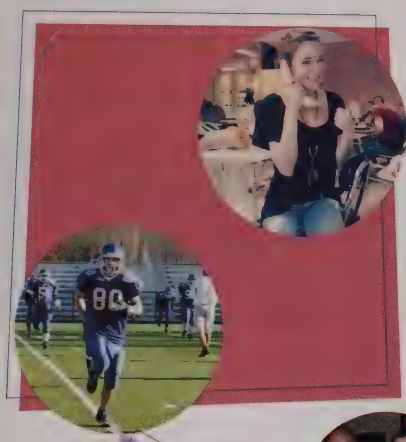
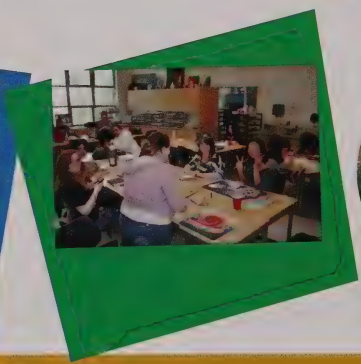
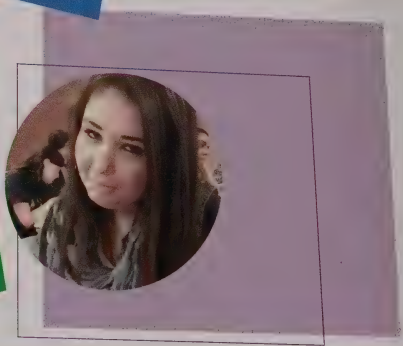
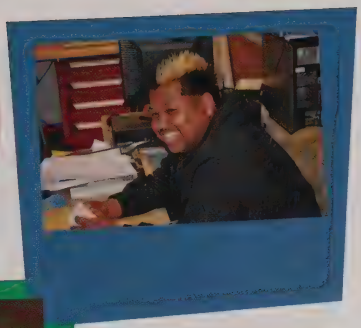
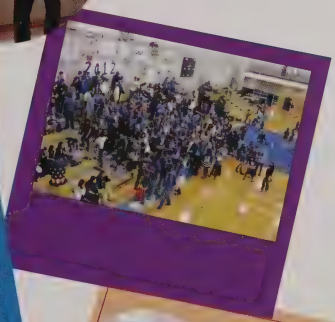
Won't regret
What we did for love'
YOU ALL LEFT FOOTPRINTS ON MY HEART."

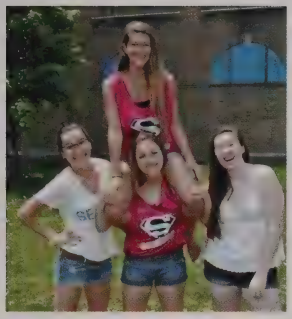


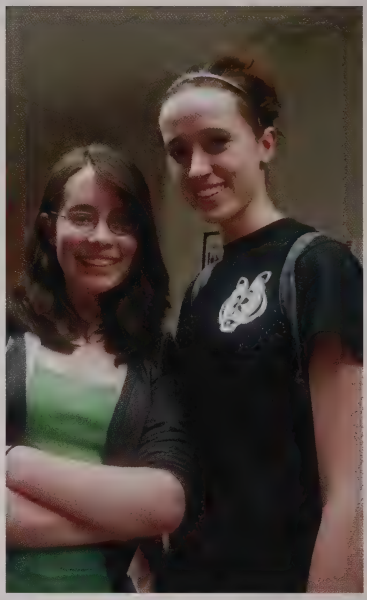












SENIOR WEEK

Senior week was celebrated from the first day of senior sign outs to the last.Students dressed in their future plans swag. We received wrist bands and enjoyed a cookout in the courtyard. Students also roamed the school saying goodbye to favorite teachers and gloating our freedom to all of the underclassmen.

June 1st couldn't have been a more perfect day for our senior prom at the Quincy Marriott. After being out of school for a week, prom was the best way for everyone to gather with friends and go out with a bang before graduation. The prom committee did their best to make the night absolutely amazing, and all their efforts truly paid off. The dance floor and tables were extravagantly decorated to fit the masquerade theme, and the dinner and desserts were incredible. The girls looked dazzling in their elegant gowns and the guys all looked handsome and sophisticated in their tuxes. Everyone posed for pictures and kicked off their shoes to dance as the DJ played all of our favorite songs such as Call Me Maybe, Save A Horse Ride A Cowboy, and of course Bend Over. The best part of the entire event was that even though the prom ended at 11, the night didn't stop there. Everyone departed from the Marriott to make it to the next party the Senior Night Out that lasted until 5 in the morning. Senior Prom was the perfect way to say goodbye to all of our fellow classmates and teachers before we celebrate what is yet to come in the future. The senior class would like to thank Mr. Santoro, Mr.J, and all the teachers that chaperoned for all that they did to make this night unforgettable.

Even though the senior prom ended at 11 o'clock pm, the party did not stop there for the class of 2012. Our Senior Night Out prom after party was held at the National Fire Protection Agency Building in Battery March Park, and it lasted until 5 in the morning. The Parent Advisory Council spent all year fund raising and planning in order to make this night unforgettable for all QHS students. When the party started at midnight there were plenty of fun activities for everyone to take part in. The event offered amazing raffles and prizes such as Gift Cards, Coupons, Flat Screen TVs, Red Sox tickets, even Ipads and cash! At the end of the night, every single person that attended got something to take home. There was a DJ, a photo booth, fortune tellers, caricature artists, and plenty of games and activities including poker tables set up all around the room. With all the pizza, ice cream, Chinese food and desserts, there was no way anyone was going hungry throughout the night. The class of 2012 was extremely lucky to have a Parent Advisory Council that was willing to dedicate their time to put together a fun and safe night for us to celebrate after prom. Everyone had a blast with all of the after prom festivities, and it certainly was a night that no one will forget. Senior Night Out was the perfect way for our class to have one last celebration together before our final goodbye.

IT'S FINALLY HERE!

The class of 2012 put in a lot of hard work in their four years, but it finally paid off on June 6th, when they received their diplomas. Holding the ceremony in the gymnasium created a more intimate setting, and students were able to say goodbye to Quincy High School one last time. As a whole, the class of 2012 accomplished a lot in our years here. 85% of us made honor role, (79% of us were selected to be in National Honors Society). Our Robotics team has been recognized at a national level.The Drama Club has put on 11 shows in the past four years. We represented 81 different countries in our cultural fairs. Our math team has been recognized nationally. We participated in 40 different clubs. We Started the first Quincy High School Skills USA team (we won Gold). Our various athletic teams have placed in the MIAA state tournaments including: Girls Volleyball, Boys Soccer, Girls and Boys Basketball, Girls Tennis, and Softball. Our Science Fair had 200 participants, with 10 going to States. We celebrated our excellence at our Senior Awards Ceremony receiving over 400 awards. These past four years have been an amazing ride. At Quincy High we have all formed bonds with other people. Some amazing friendships have been made, and every single person in this class will be missed. Congratulations class of 2012, WE DID IT!

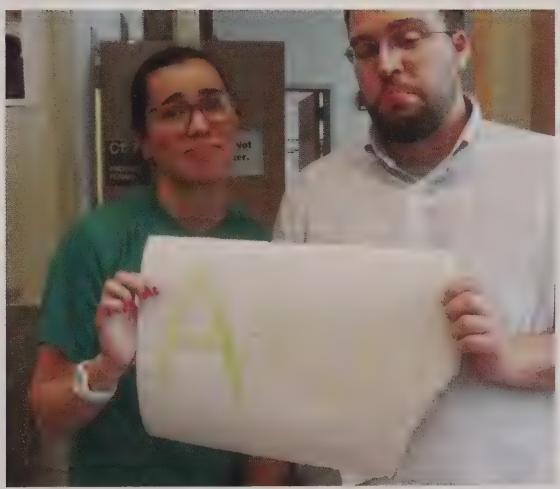
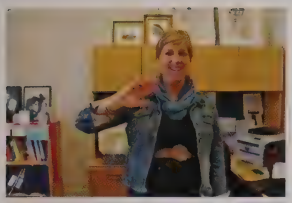
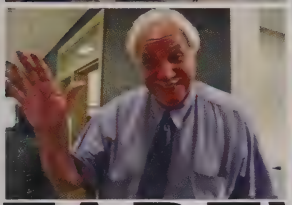
Don't let your life pass you by...







FAREWELL, QHS

By D'onna Roch

I remember back to freshman year when we all started together in the old building. It went by so fast. It was such an exciting time getting to know each other, everyone coming from different parts of Quincy. You had the Point kids, the West Quincy kids, the Merrymount and Adams Shore kids, the Germantown kids, and, of course, the best of all, the Houghs Neck kids. But friendships were developed quickly and we all became one part: the Quincy High kids.

We have done so much with our four years here. We started with gas leaks and construction, but it was all worth it. We have been privileged to be in the most beautiful high school that I've ever been in. The school may have changed, bu there were certain things that didn't. Such as trying to sneak your four dollar cup of coffee down the hall hiding it behir the side of your sweater only to have Sully dump it out. And then there's Mrs. Dwyer, who everyone knows as the funn one. And we'll never forget Mr. Howard's birthday, when we'd all run to his room to write all over his whiteboard and give him birthday cards. We've had the cultural fair, Just Dance Tournaments, Assassins, Homecomings, and so much more. But I think we can all agree that the most fun week of the year is spirit week, including the rally. We are the only class that has ever won spirit week two years in a row and we owe most of the credit to Mr. J., for teaching us so much and instilling a sense of QHS pride in us. Thank you for everything that you do. We have also learned the importance of supporting our teams and clubs. We have been so fortunate to have such a great principal. I have not been to a single sporting event, play, fundraiser, or any other Quincy High event without seeing Mr. Santoro there being so supportive o all of us. He has taught us that being there for each other is truly one of the most important things.

When I think back to when I was younger and my impressions of what high school was going to be like, I think of all of the movies and they way they portrayed high school as having different cliques. You had the jocks, the preps, the goths, and the smart kids, and they all stuck to their own. But that has not been my experience at Quincy High. Since da one, we have all accepted each other for our differences. We have learned from each other and grown together and thes are friendships that will last forever. We may all be going in different directions, some of us moving far across the count to different states and some of us staying right in Boston. But no matter where we go, we will always have a special bon

A lot of graduation speeches mention that we will be the future doctors, lawyers, scientists, and businesspeople. And I know that we will, QHS has taught us well. But more than that, we have learned to truly accept people for who they are. We know that the world is made up of all different sorts of people, and we can learn from them all, just like we hav here. So we go not just as doctors, lawyers, scientists, and businesspeople; but we are able to move on as great members of society. We are the second class to graduate from the new building and I think we're the best. I wish you all the best o luck and I expect everyone to come back for all of our reunions.
